PRESS RELEASE

Give A Little Extra This Christmas

Help Fill GMFA's Christmas Stocking

London, 12 November 2007 -- GMFA are making Christmas shopping easier by offering online alternatives to the shopping queues. Now you can buy online Christmas cards from Studio51 that will help raise funds for the gay men's health charity. GMFA have also teamed up with eBay so you can buy presents or sell those unwanted gifts and make a donation from the winning bid.

"We've got two new ways to help GMFA this Christmas," said Matthew Hodson, Head of Programmes for GMFA. "It couldn't be easier; with just the click of a mouse you can get cards or buy and sell presents while donating towards important work for gay men."

If its quality cards you're after, go to www.studio51.com. Once you've choose your cards (minimum order is 20), select GMFA as your chosen charity, fill in your details and your cards will be posted to you. GMFA will receive 51 pence for every pound you spend.

If you're looking to buy or sell gifts, go to www.ebay.co.uk/charity. Sellers can choose GMFA as their nominated charity, followed by the percentage of the sales price they wish to donate - and eBay do the rest. Once items are listed that will benefit GMFA, buyers can search for them directly, safe in the knowledge that their money will go to the charity.

About GMFA:

GMFA was established in 1992 and is the UK's leading charity dedicated to gay men's health. GMFA's mission is to improve gay men's health by increasing the control they have over their own lives. We believe that the best health promotion for gay men comes from gay men themselves, and so we use the knowledge and ideas of our 170 volunteers (most of them gay men) to design and plan our thought provoking sexual health interventions. Yearly we deliver three new mass media campaigns in the gay press to disseminate up to date information regarding HIV and STIs to the gay male community. Independent surveys have concluded that our campaigns reach up to 60% of the London gay population and we are the most reliable agency at reaching gay men. In addition to this we distribute our own health magazine, FS, free to London's gay bars and clubs to further educate gay men about relationships, their bodies, general health and STIs. Annually, we deliver 1000 hours of group work to educate gay men in safer sex, and over the last fourteen years have provided courses for over 10,000 gay men. We have received international acclaim for our Sex and Sexual Health website (www.gmfa.org.uk/sex). Our other websites include a detailed listing of sexual health services available for gay men in London (www.gmfa.org.uk/londonservices) and a guide to gay sports and social groups in London (www.gmfa.org.uk/theguide). We are continually developing new health websites and are just about to launch a website for HIV positive gay men. All of our sites can be accessed at www.gmfa.org.uk.
